Amendments to the Specification:

Please amend paragraph [0023] on page 7 of the Specification as follows:

The main task log 102 may contain the task containers 104 or have a list of references (e.g., pointers) to the task containers 104. One of A the task ~~container~~ containers 104 is broken out to show components of an exemplary task container 106. The exemplary task container 106 includes one or more resource containers 108, a timeslot 110, one or more constraints 112, and an interface 114. As discussed further below, each resource container 108 includes one or more named resources 116 and defines selection criteria related to the named resources. The resource containers 108 may include other resource container, called sub-containers. Sub-containers may include yet other resource containers.